

CURRICULUM FOR EXCELLENCE

Interdisciplinary Learning: Social Studies and Art - America

S2 courses in History and Geography have been adapted to create linked topics for full interdisciplinary learning through both departments. This involves an historical view of the American War of Independence and the Civil War as well as the Wild West. Meanwhile, the location of North America, including the Colorado River and the water supply to the South west USA is covered.

S2 pupils will use a variety of imagery from the American West focusing specifically on the dramatic black and white photography of American, Ansel Adams to create large tonal paintings of landscape.
